

Barrel One? High gravity flower tinctures? You've got some sweet tools in your brewer's utility belt Jim. As the Joker said of Batman,

"Where does he get such wonderful toys!?"

(savor)

Sounds like a great direction for this recipe. I found some yummy Rose Syrup made with lemon juice and rose pedals in Turin Italy.
I will send some up for you guys to play with in the lab. I think we could add some in the whirl and it will marry-up to your multi-flower tincture in a sexy way down stream. I like what you wrote about the power of the flowers Jim.

In fact, I suggest we simply call this beer SAVOR Flowers. By interweaving the beer and event names we can drive home the point that craft beer and beautiful foods belong together.
